REGULATIONS

COUNCIL REGULATION (EC) No 521/2008

of 30 May 2008

setting up the Fuel Cells and Hydrogen Joint Undertaking

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Community, and in particular Article 171 and 172 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Parliament,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee,

Whereas:

(1) Decision No 1982/2006/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 18 December 2006 concerning the Seventh Framework Programme of the European Community for research, technological development and demonstration activities (2007-2013) ⁽¹⁾ (hereinafter referred to as the Seventh Framework Programme), provides for a Community contribution for the establishment of long term public-private partnerships in the form of Joint Technology Initiatives (hereinafter referred to as JTI) which could be implemented through Joint Undertakings within the meaning of Article 171 of the Treaty. These JTI were established as a result of the work of European Technology Platforms, already set up under the Sixth Framework Programme, and cover selected aspects of research in their field. They should combine private-sector investment and European public funding, including funding from the Seventh Framework Programme.

(2) Council Decision 2006/971/EC of 19 December 2006 concerning the Specific Programme 'Cooperation' implementing the Seventh Framework Programme of the European Community for research, technological development and demonstration activities (2007 to 2013) ⁽²⁾, underlines the need for ambitious pan-European public-private partnerships to accelerate the development of major technologies and large research actions at Community level including, in particular, JTI.

(3) The Lisbon Growth and Jobs Agenda underscores the need to develop favourable conditions for investment in knowledge and innovation in the Community to boost competitiveness, growth and jobs.

(4) In March 2007 the European Council concluded that Member States were determined to promote eco-innovations through an ambitious approach, taking full advantage of lead markets in areas such as sustainable and safe low carbon technologies, renewable energies and energy and resource efficiency; it recognised the need to strengthen energy research in particular to accelerate the competitiveness of sustainable energies, notably renewables, and low carbon technologies and the further development of energy efficiency technologies.

(5) In its conclusions of 3 March 2003, of 22 September 2003 and of 24 September 2004, the Council highlighted the importance of further developing actions following the 3 % Action Plan for research and the innovation policy, including the development of new initiatives aimed at intensifying cooperation between industry and the public sector in funding research to enhance trans-national public-private links.

⁽²⁾ OJ L 400, 30.12.2006, p. 86, as corrected by OJ L 54, 22.2.2007, p. 30.

- (6) In November 2003 the European Council adopted a European Initiative for Growth. This Initiative, in the Quick-start Programme, includes a Project Area 'Hydrogen economy' with a total amount of EUR 2 800 million between 2004 and 2015 and possible funding from the Research, Technological development and Demonstration (hereinafter referred to as 'RTD') Framework Programmes and the Structural Funds.
- (7) In May 2003 a Hydrogen and Fuel Cell High Level Group presented a vision report on 'Hydrogen Energy and Fuel Cells — a vision of our future', recommending, inter alia, the formation of a fuel cell and hydrogen technology partnership and a substantially increased RTD budget, as well as a demonstration and pilot programme to extend the technology validation exercises into the market development arena.
- (8) In December 2003, the Commission facilitated the creation of the European Hydrogen and Fuel Cell Technology Platform (hereinafter referred to as EHFC TP), bringing together all interested stakeholders in a joint effort to move towards achieving the High Level Group's vision. In March 2005, the said Technology Platform adopted a Strategic Research Agenda and Deployment Strategy, aimed at accelerating the development and market introduction of fuel cell and hydrogen technologies in the Community.
- (9) The technology challenge facing fuel cells and hydrogen is of great complexity and scale and the dispersion of technical competencies is very high. Therefore, in order to achieve critical mass in terms of scale of activity, excellence, and potential for innovation, this challenge needs to be tackled in a focused and coherent way at EU level. This, and its potential contribution to Community policies, in particular energy, environment, transport, sustainable development and economic growth, calls for the JTI approach in this sector.
- (10) The objective of the JTI on 'Fuel Cells and Hydrogen' is to implement a programme of RTD activities in Europe in the fields of fuel cells and hydrogen. These should be carried out, building on the EHFC TP, with the cooperation and involvement of stakeholders from industry including small and medium-sized enterprises (hereinafter referred to as SMEs), research centres, universities, and regions.
- (11) Significant breakthroughs in a number of fields are needed in order for fuel cell and hydrogen technologies to be effectively deployed. Proper emphasis should be put on long-term research, taking into account advice provided by the advisory bodies of the Fuel Cells and Hydrogen Joint Undertaking (hereinafter the FCH Joint Undertaking).
- (12) Taking into account the public-private partnership involving major stakeholders and its long term activity, the generated socioeconomic benefits for European citizens, the pooling of financial resources and co-financing in the field of fuel cells and hydrogen RTD activity provided by the Commission and industry, the high scientific and technical expertise required, and the input of industrial property rights, it is vital to set up a FCH Joint Undertaking under Article 171 of the Treaty. This legal entity should ensure the coordinated use and efficient management of the funds assigned to the JTI on 'Fuel Cells and Hydrogen'. To ensure the appropriate management of activities initiated but not concluded during the Seventh Framework Programme the FCH Joint Undertaking should be set up for a period up to 31 December 2017.
- (13) The objectives of the FCH Joint Undertaking should be pursued by pooling resources from the public and private sectors to support RTD activities with a view to increase the overall efficiency of European research efforts and accelerate the development and deployment of fuel cell and hydrogen technologies. To that end, the FCH Joint Undertaking should be able to organise competitive calls for proposals for projects to implement the RTD activities. Research activities should respect fundamental and ethical principles applicable to the Seventh Framework Programme.
- (14) The founding members of the FCH Joint Undertaking should be the Community represented by the Commission as public representative and the European Fuel Cell and Hydrogen Joint Technology Initiative Industry Grouping (hereinafter referred to as the 'Industry Grouping'), which represents the interests of industry and is open to private companies. A Research Grouping may become a member of the FCH Joint Undertaking.
- (15) The running costs of the FCH Joint Undertaking should be covered equally in cash by the Community and the Industry Grouping from the outset. If the Research Grouping is established it should also contribute to the running costs.

- (16) The operational costs should be funded by the Community, industry and other public and private legal entities participating in the activities. Further financing options may be available, inter alia, from the European Investment Bank, in particular through the Risk-Sharing Finance Facility developed jointly with the European Investment Bank and the Commission pursuant to Annex III to Decision 2006/971/EC.
- (17) According to the Seventh Framework Programme and Council Decision 2006/975/EC of 19 December 2006 concerning the Specific Programme to be carried out by means of direct actions by the Joint Research Centre under the Seventh Framework Programme of the European Community for research, technological development and demonstration activities (2007 to 2013) ⁽¹⁾, the Joint Research Centre may participate in joint technology initiatives where relevant. The Joint Research Centre has specific expertise in the fields of fuel cells and hydrogen, and therefore, it is appropriate to clarify that its possible contribution to joint technology initiatives is not intended to form part of the Community contribution foreseen in the legal acts setting up the joint technology initiatives.
- (18) The FCH Joint Undertaking should be a body set up by the Community and discharge for the implementation of its budget should be given by the European Parliament, on the recommendation of the Council. However, account should be taken of the specificities resulting from the nature of JTI as a public-private partnership and in particular from the private-sector contribution to the budget.
- (19) The FCH Joint Undertaking should adopt, in accordance with Council Regulation (EC, Euratom) No 1605/2002 of 25 June 2002 on the Financial Regulation applicable to the general budget of the European Communities ⁽²⁾ and subject to prior consent with the Commission, specific financial rules which take into account its specific operating needs arising, in particular, from the need to combine Community and private funding to support RTD activities in an efficient and timely manner. In order to ensure a harmonised treatment between the participants of the FCH Joint Undertaking research activities and those of the indirect actions of the Seventh Framework Programme, it is appropriate that value added tax should not be an eligible cost for Community funding, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1906/2006 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 18 December 2006 laying down the rules for the participation of undertakings, research centres and universities in actions under the Seventh Framework Programme and for the dissemination of research results (2007-2013) ⁽³⁾.
- (20) The rules for the organisation and operation of the FCH Joint Undertaking should be laid down in the Statutes of the FCH Joint Undertaking as part of this Regulation.
- (21) The intellectual property rights policy of the FCH Joint Undertaking should provide for rights ownership for the participants of the projects as the owners of the industrial property created through the FCH Joint Technology Initiative, and should enable its proper exploitation.
- (22) Appropriate measures should be taken to prevent irregularities and fraud and the necessary steps should be taken to recover funds lost, wrongly paid or incorrectly used in accordance with Council Regulation (EC, Euratom) No 2988/95 of 18 December 1995 on the protection of the European Communities financial interests ⁽⁴⁾, Council Regulation (Euratom, EC) No 2185/96 of 11 November 1996 concerning on-the-spot checks and inspections carried out by the Commission in order to protect the European Communities' financial interests against fraud and other irregularities ⁽⁵⁾, and Regulation (EC) No 1073/1999 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 25 May 1999 concerning investigations concluded by the European Anti-Fraud Office (OLAF) ⁽⁶⁾.
- (23) As a body endowed with legal personality, the FCH Joint Undertaking should be accountable for its actions. Where relevant, the Court of Justice of the European Communities should be competent for resolution of disputes arising from the activities of the FCH Joint Undertaking.
- (24) Since the objective of this Regulation, namely the establishment of the FCH Joint Undertaking, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States due to the transnational nature and magnitude of the research challenges identified, which requires the pooling of complementary knowledge and financial resources across sectors and borders and can therefore be better achieved at Community level, the Community may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve this objective,
